HOLIDAY EXCURSIONS

Via the Union Pacific.

Sweet Mollie was a malden coy.
Divinely fair to see:
With all a maiden's willfulness
She tantalized poor me.
It semed they were in vain;
My ardent vows she ridiculed
And troated with disdain,
But when I gassed into her face,
No more I felt discress,
Atthough her line stop old.

At the opening of the Kirmess tomorrow night, Miss Satage and Mr. Jenks will sing a new dust from Sousa's latest opera, "El Capitan."

And now for years she's been my wife,
We both are getting old,
Our heads are white, our backs are bent,
But love has not grown co'd.
Content, we journey hand in hand
Along life's winding wayyou have been our hearts forever young
As on our wedding day.
My youthful dream came true, I know

THE OLD FOLKS SHOW .- It hard to say whether audience or play-ers were most interested in yesterday JURY AND WITNESS FEES.

ex-General Hishop Gives Out quest From County Attorney Townsend, of Summit. were occupied exclusively by old folks, and gazed at from the stage, the spectacle of row upon row of heads upon which the snows of many winters had fallen was a most beautiful one. Certainly the players found it full of mingled pathos and humor; the manager, Mr. Warmington, said it was a most delightful experience to the company, and they were more than pleased to give their services in so noble a cause. He said he knew of no other community where an old folks association existed, and others of the company said they knew of no other community in which such an organicussed question whether jury and wit-ness fees in criminal cases shall be paid by the county in the first instance and then collected from the state, Mr. Bishop deciding in the negative. The dinion was rendered in compliance the a request from County Attorney ownsend of Summit who asked this isiature intended. He concludes, however, that under the concluding clause of section 165 of the county government bill it was not intended that the county should pay in the first instance. The clause referred to reads as follows:

"The county treasurer shall hold the funds so draws from the state treasurer upon the warrant aforesaid at a separate fund for the redemption of jurors

"The Old Homestead" closed its Sait Lake engagement last evening before a fair audience. While those who had seen Denman Thompson, and his first successor, Archie Boyd, in the role of Uncle Josh, found the present company, and especially the Happy Jack and the Cy Prime, far below the originals—yet there were many who had not, and these were as much amused as it was possible to be. The singing feature is the one detail up to the old standard.

FORT SHERMAN NOTES. § FORT SHERMAN NOTES.

The officers of Fort Sherman gave a delightful dance in the rost hall Monday evening, Dec. 7. The regimental orenestra under the direction of Prof. Klein furnished the music and the dancing was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Merrill. Lieutenant and Mrs. Praint. Lieutenant and Mrs. Palmer. Lieutenant and Mrs. Palmer. Lieutenant and Mrs. Goorge, Miss Sue Bacon, Miss Bessie Bacon, Miss Graham, Lieutenant Swley, Lieutenant Simmons, Mr. Frank Whitall, Mr. Louis Whitall, Mr. Gilbert Allen and Mr. Sidney Hopper.

Colonel Theaker and Captain Allen have been ordered to Vancouver bar-marks as members of the general court martial. They leave here on the 14th. Mrs. Theaker and Miss Nina will accompany the columb to Fortland, where they will meet Miss Madge Theaker, and return to Sherman, where Miss Madge will spend the holidays.

Madge will spend the holidays.

A late post order directs that the sendon of the soot bream will be held on Mondays and Thursdays, at it chock, Cantain W. V. Richards and harain T. C. Woodbury are appointed estraint instructors, the former for the subsects of "minor and fighting facties and international law," and the after for elements of "field engineering and military topegraphy." The likeers comprising the bycount will be formed into one class. Lieute bean Castle has been appointed secretary.

The new formation flag staff has been excited on the cast and of the adjutants effice and it is so arranged that the flags may be seen from any point in the post regardiers of the direction of the wind. This staff is used to notify the troops as to the formation for that day. Several different colored and different shaped flags have been made. Every color or combination of color or shapes has its specific meaning. So if a man looks at the flags he can tell whether there will be parade, inspection or any other ceremony. The signals are something on the style of the weather flags.

Lieutenant Guy G. Palmer has been detailed as officer in charge of athletics. He will establish a symmatum as soon as a suitable building can be procured.

The troops of Fort Sherman have Fad but one parade since arriving here. The had weather has prevented any nore such ceromonles?

mere such ceremonies*

Private Allen, of company C, and Miss Farr were united in marriage on the 16th. Their new home will be in the house that the high water carried in front of the parade ground. The house is a comfortable frame building, in spite of its battle with the elements, which picked it up so unceremoniously and set it down in front of the parade ground.
